Solidaile events !

The period of this year is marked by numerous events which we organize to continue announcing the most possible on our action as a whole and introduce human and economic dimension of the projects of different local structures in Peru which we support.

To begin, a meal is planned on Saturday, October 13th. Do not hesitate to come and to book your places (by mail in info@solidaile.org)!

After, a troop of theatre will play on Thursday, November 15th, 2007 at 20 h 30 at the theatre of Neuilly, « Of The wind in the branches of Sassafras », a comedy of R. de Obaldia. In intermission, a collection will be organized to the advantage of 3 associations of which Solidaile. If you like to attend it and want to cross a good instant, you may book your places by mail by writing us at info@solidaile.org.

We put moreover online on our Internet website (www.solidaile.org) the first video turned by 5 French specialized in the broadcasting in January, 2007 during the start of our first project in Huancavelica. They stayed there 12 days and filmed numerous instants crossed with local structure. They also organized of numerous projections of films for the hundred of children and teenagers of Huancavelica. Thanks a lot Yann, Marlène, Gabriel, Aurélie and Damien for your great job ! It is possible to watch the video directly with the following link:

Concerning the exchange between the pupils of classes of Spanish of the secondary school "Saint Joseph du Parchamp" in Boulogne Billancourt and the teenagers of Huancavelica, the professors liked to continue the experience for 2007 - 2008. It will be opportunity for them once again to discover and share differences of cultures, ways of life... that there are between France and the city of Huancavelica (3700m of altitude)!

Last September, an agreement of collaboration was set up with the University of Lyon 2 as part of its Master in Solidarity. Solidaile will introduce his step as a whole to the students of the Master during conferences. An offer of training period could be offered to a student later with the possibility to integrate him to a specific project in France or abroad.

Concerning the new projects we decided to support for 2007-2008, some of them have already started like the group of handcraft in Lima, women native in Ayacucho (region hardly hit by the "Sentier Lumineux" in the eighties) for whom we finance industrial machines of textile industry.

We also started a project in the department of Junin with the native community Ashaninkas called "Pucharini" and financed an agro environmental transformation of the oil of Sacha Inchi, an almond used traditionally for its beneficial nutritional and cosmetic effects (high concentration in omega 3).

For the other projects of local structures we decided to support, we continue addressing files of request of subventions so as to be able to finance them. If in your circle, you know firms interested by our actions, do not hesitate to contact us (info@solidaile.org) and if you personally like to support us by a donation or another action, you are also the welcome!

Before sending you the next newsletter, all the Solidaile team thanks you for your support, for the interest which you carry in all actions.

In Solidarity,

Philippe Nadiras
